Welcome to my Marine Reef Aquarium Page

This page was last updated on March 28, 1999

The following pages contain the history of my troubles and success in trying to maintain a small piece of the ocean for me and others to enjoy in the time that I have been in this hobby (about 3 Years). I have gone from knowing practically nothing about marine ecology, to being able to maintain a beautiful closed ecosystem within the confines of a four foot glass box. The product of my trials and tribulations is the small wonder that you see before you.
